

6516206338.txt

Dear FCC,
I pay a fee for a service that helps me as a traveling sales person. I spend a lot of time in the car and need the ability to check traffic and weather to make sure I am going to make my next appointment.

I cannot rely on the local channels as they aren't instant like the XM service I subscribe too. Plus, I have to find the local channels that actually have traffic reports.

My subscription actually saves me time and money and has real economic effects. I am able to make appointments not reschedule because I can change my schedule and direction if needed.

I am asking you not to take this aspect of the subscription that I use and deserve!

Rob McDonald